

If I should more forgett or not remember thee your Epistole mighte a penke write and some mighte to me for I to open them. And loke for sayings with and you mighte want yet at there no for I loathed to bid farewell.
 And as I went to friend so I continue still no better proove you than your desire of true good will I do remember with your mende of good way
 And that the light would last as no longer for to stay.
 I have now left me by the first, and goldinge fast my hand.
 And course of me to put the newes you liked of the land.

THis Booke was bound by Iohn Browne, Citizen and Stationer of London, dwelling in Little Brit-taine, right ouer-against Great S. Bartholomewes Gate; For William Rich, of the Middle Temple,
 London, with this Rich fillius Robertus Rich natus fuit
 3. die marcij Ano. 1567.

Repturibus meis in Baptismo.
 Annus Stone, Egidius Hayne, Thomasina Pselpho, & por
 His Pselpho.

